Conversación con amigos. (Conversation with friends)

When friends meet, they speak in a more familiar way, by asking, “How’s it going?,” “What’s up?,” etc. And after talking for a while, friends signal the ending of a conversation by saying, “Well, I have to go,” “Call me,” etc.

For this exercise, come up with a situation you’d like to share with a friend, like “I had an accident,” “I got a new job,” etc. Then start a conversation with a partner using some of the conversation starters suggested by Anna. Next, respond to the news with one of the common responses below. Finally, try to close the conversation using some of the phrases suggested by Anna.
